

Geoffrey Henning
EuropaColon

Geoffrey Henning came to the UK from South Africa, where he grew up, and working at the Embassy here. However, so enamoured was he of the UK and Europe that he decided to stay and undertook a range of different jobs before he co-founded and then managed a very successful national fundraising organisation for HIV. During his time the organisation made substantial grants to many HIV organisations in the UK and also abroad.

In 1997 he joined Roche UK as Patient Liaison Manager and later changed focus, working as Policy Manager for their oncology portfolio for 7 years. During this time he worked closely with many different patient organisations in the UK on a variety of different projects.

He joined EuropaColon in 2012 as Director of Policy and in 2013 joined the Board. Geoffrey brings more than 20 years of experience in the voluntary sector along with considerable understanding of the Pharmaceutical world.
